Mr. Buyers taught me English in 9th grade Jr. High. He was a nice person who visited many times at our reunions and practically knew everyone (Annual 60's Era Reunion). James Hubbell Wickliffe Class of 1963

So glad that I got to see Mr. Buyers about 15 years ago and tell him much of 'The Rime of the Ancient Mariner' that I still remembered from 1959! He made Shakespeare come to life! Rest in peace Mr. Buyers.

Thanks to Mr. Buyers' English classes in high school (Wickliffe class of '84), I had an excellent foundation to build a successful journalism, editing, publishing and marketing/communications career. At OU, I aced a tough "Grammar & Writing" class that my fellow students dreaded -- I got A! He is one high school teacher I remember fondly to this day, 40 years later.

Mr. Buyers was my English teacher back in the late 50s early 60s. I remember the Merchant of Venice specifically and The Odyssey. He was a good teacher. RIP

Mr Byers was my favorite teacher at. Wickliffe Jr high. We had a running joke between us for the Byers Haters Club-which I was the only member. He was the nicest guy and I so respected him. RIP Mr B-I will always remember you?
