When I was new to the Education Department, I felt overwhelmed. I will never forget that it was Lori who taught me to prioritize and learn what is important, and what can "wait til later". It is something I think about often, if not daily. I wish I had known you longer, my friend; you had so much more to give. Your kind, compassionate heart and desire to teach and never stop learning leaves us with an empty space. I hope to honor your memory by being almost as wonderful an educator as you were. Miss you so much! Rest in peace.

â€œI need attentionâ€; Froyo run? Oh how I will miss these conversations! Lori you were fun, outgoing, thoughtful, and most importantly a best friend. Someone I could confide in, laugh with, just be me no matter what or where the situation. I wouldnâ€™t shop during a tornado with anyone else:) Love you!
