Tom. I hope you forgive me for the shark thing, because Noble was way too cute to resist. Tom made me a playlist, Tom paid attention to what I liked and he was generous in a way humans don't typically possess, he was above average in regards to what a man is meant to be. I wanted to see him shine the way he helped me shine. The thing is if he could see who I am today, I would be brave and whole enough to let him see me. Because thanks to him, I've healed so much, I let people see me for who I am. Without his support there would be no empire that I'm building today, there would be no dreams, there would have been not one soul, I had. Tom loved Mohamed Ali too, and watching boxing. Tom LOVED PABLOOOO! Tom loved, Tom lived, Tom Reigned

You gave me your stuffed shark Bruce, and you said promise me never to let Noble have this. I thought i had forever with you as my friend, Noble ate the shark.... I remember all the wonderful talks we shared outside, I remember how easy it was to talk to you about anything, I remember how devoted you were to your new career omg how you invested in my growth, I can't fathom this loss. I remember how much you loved me. I miss you Tom every single day.

Tom took care of me when I was homeless, when I was broken he listened and he lifted me up, he steered me from trouble and even when I didn't listen he loved me any way. He fed me, he respected me, he was easy to talk to and trust, he was the safest to talk to and trust. He was smart he was kind to my dog Noble who he loved and he was the only one to never second guess Noble the way I do, even more at first if anything. Gone to soon.

Tom was a hero, a shark, respectful, funny, stoic, handsome, innovative, sensitive but in a way men lack these days. He was superior in the way he dressed, thought, he was just my angel and I cannot believe he is gone.

I met Tom through working at Nesco years back and we struck up an immediate friendship. Tom and I had a brand of humor that meshed very well and even though we didnt talk as often as we would have liked, we always picked up where we left off like no time had passed. Tom and I had many customer visits together and they always involved some side splitting hilarious conversation that was talked about many years to come. Tom and I also shared a love of movies and spouting random movie quotes to one another. Tom had an infectious personality and a huge heart that would light up a room. He was giving, passionate, and had a wonderful ability to read people and make connections. Tom was one of those rare people you meet in life that made an experience better just because he was there. I will miss our time we spent with one another and the laughs we had. I know you have gone home to be with the Lord and I look forward to enjoying another peach milkshake with you again someday buddy.
