Dear Schneider family, Candy was a great woman. One of a kind. I knew her well, I worked with her at Speedway for over two years. Since day one she helped me get adjusted to the job and showed me how things were done. She believed in me when it came to my college studies and one day making it big. She told me she would just want me to take her out to a fancy restaurant as a payback gift one day. Candy also worked so hard up there, regardless of how bad it was, she gave it her all everyday she worked. Now that she has been gone, work has been hard, not just for me, but all my coworkers. She left her mark in that place, and it shows that she is no longer there. Whenever she came in I would give her a huge hug and ask her how everything was going. We would have long talks while working our ten hours shifts, and it made the day so much better. Candy was like another mother to me and I love and miss her so very much. I did not have many chances to meet Donald unfortunately, but from what I hear he loved to dance. I want to wish both their families the very best. I know this is a very rough time right now, I feel it too, but we can all remember them for what happiness they brought into our lives everyday. Candy left her print in my life forever; and I hope they are both up in heaven, sitting in their camper, enjoying each others company in peace. Love, Mandie
