Miss you extra today...don't know why. Probably because Kyleigh talks about you all the time and I wonder if you talk to her or if she sees you. She loves you so much and prays for you often. Whenever "heaven" is referenced, she talks about you and seeing you again one day. Love you so much, Gramps. Miss you too.

Grandpa, I miss you every day. I can't believe it's almost been two years since you left us. Although the holidays were wonderful, I couldn't help but feel a piece of my heart was missing. I love you so much every day and I can't wait to see you again. I know I will. Sometimes the kids talk about you as if you were right there with us. Maybe you are....Love you, love you, love you so much.

Danny and family, I'm sorry for your loss. Just wanted to relate to you that when friends and I get together and talk about the old baseball days I always mention the good memories I have of being on the mound and always hearing your dad's voice booming out from the stands. As much as I tried to concentrate and block out external distractions I fondly remember hearing only your dad's voice encouraging me with "Come on Z....."

Danny, I know it has been many years since I have seen you or your Dad. My sincere condolences to you and your family. Time can not take away the remembrance I have of your Dad at our baseball games and the support he always shown by attending your games. Can still recall him always calling me Cejka, never Al.
