I remember that first trip down to Florida with Jason. The first time I met you and how we bonded over our favorite tv shows. I'll never forget all the laughs you brought to me and all the people around you. You are a bright light and bring so much joy and happiness to those around you. Wyatt and Weston love you! You were Wyatt's favorite person to FaceTime, always bringing a smile to his face. We miss you lots and will always think about all those fun times together. We love you!

Junior/Uncle Terry, we love and miss you so much! I have so many memories growing up as kids that I'll cherish forever. Whenever you were around, there was guaranteed to be laughter and mischief, especially at the expense of your dad. Your fearless spirit brought a sense of adventure to every moment. You've gone through so much in your life but you always exuded strength, courage, and positivity no matter what - a true fighter. When you became an uncle, you could truly see the love and admiration in your eyes around your nieces and nephews. Brynn and Cole adored you and will always have you in their hearts. Rest easy and pain free little brother

Your strength through the adversity in your life was one of a kind. I am proud to call you my son. I know I am not your biological mother but you are my son in my heart. I miss our daily laughs and all of the tv shows we watched together. You had a heart of gold always worrying about others before yourself. We always had each others back. I know you are with God now and watching over our family. I love you and miss you. Until we meet again. 🙏🙏🙏

Since we were little it was the normal brother vs brother back and forth, even though we weren't blood we would fight and then make up pretty quickly. In amazement of it all after your accident your personality didn't change and somehow you became even more selfless. The way you treated everyone around you is something that everyone should strive for. My favorite times recently were cracking jokes with you and us laughing together. I wish you could have held each of my boys but just know you have made an impact on their lives. Love you buddy.

I look at your pictures and pray for you every morning, noon and night! When you left us you took a huge part of my Heart but the remaining part I have is full of memories with you!
